Mental Health Group Sets Weekend Member Drive

The Mental Health Association nationwide is preparing a major membership drive for the weekend of May 14-16, announced today by Sid Easley, president of the local Mental Health Association.

The membership drive is centered around the Friday night, May 14, ABC television showing of "Return to Earth." This special TV film tells the story of astronaut Buzz Aldrin's bout with mental depression following his historic first moon landing. Aldrin later became a National Chairman and Board Member of the Mental Health Association.

The Murray Mental Health Board will be joining with other chapters across the country in a drive to increase their ranks and effectiveness in working for better mental health services. The association is also concerned with mental health education, as well as information and referral.

Those wishing to join and support the Mental Health Association should mail contributions to Murray Comprehensive Care Center, c/o Mrs. Sam Bell, Route 4, Murray.

The 12th Annual Charity Ball to be held June 5 is donating all proceeds to Mental Health. Tickets which are $30 and are tax deductible may be obtained by calling Jenny Smock 753-6094 or Annette Alexander 753-3827.

Drug Education Council Hears Report On Center

David Cooper, senior alcohol counselor at the Joseph L. Friedman Substance Abuse Center in Paducah, was the guest speaker at the annual dinner meeting of the Calloway County Council on Drug Education held last night.

Cooper explained to the local group several aspects of the new center in Paducah, which provides both five day "sobering up, coming down," and 30-day resident programs for residents of the nine counties in the Purchase area.

The center, which has been open since March 1, also maintains a 24-hour crisis counsel line with a toll free number for the Purchase area.

The five day program is a non-hospital detoxification facility which provides alcoholics, drug addicts, or victims of other substance abuse an accepting environment, sanctuary-type atmosphere for sobering up or coming down, Cooper told the group here.

The center has a capacity for 15 persons, and maintains an average of nine to ten clients.

Hearing Set On Condemnation Suit

A hearing has been scheduled for 1:30 p. m. Friday in the Circuit Court of James M. Lassiter to consider condemnation suit being brought by the Murray-Calloway County Airport Board.

The suit will seek to justify taking the land of Jerry Bibb for proposed improvements and expansion at the airport.

Funding comes from state, local and federal sources, as well as patient fees. Fees at the center are based on the ability to pay, and range from $1 to $35 per day.

The center employs 14 persons, and has served about 40 persons since opening. About three-fourths of these have been alcohol-related cases, Cooper said.

WINS BIKE—Darrell Overby (left) won a 10-speed Cherry Racing bike from Spoke & Pedal for turning in the most money in the recent Cystic Fibrosis Jog-Bike-A-Thon. Presenting the bike to Overby is Tommy Starks, owner of Spoke & Pedal, who sold the bike at below dealers cost. Money for the bike was donated by Peoples Bank and the Bank of Murray. A complete list of all the prize winners is on page 16 of today's Murray Ledger & Times.

R. L. Cooper Named Treasurer Of State Health Association

R. L. Cooper of Murray has been elected treasurer of the Kentucky Home Health Association.

The two-year-old, 350-member organization encourages development of home health care services throughout the state and educates the public about the availability of these services.

Other elected officers are: Mrs. Helen Sligar of Louisville, president; Linda Madden of Manchester, vice president; and Ann Barlow of Richmond, secretary.

Officers are elected for a two-year term.

Fine Levied In Beer Case

Earl Redmon, of Calloway County, was fined $114.50 after pleading guilty to a charge of possession of alcoholic beverages for purposes of sale, according to the office of County Judge Robert O. Miller.

The approximately 40 cases of beer were confiscated in a raid made recently by the Calloway County Sheriff's office. Twenty cases of the beer were returned to Frank Windt, and 15 cases were returned to Redmon after it was determined that it was his personal stock. The remainder are to be given to the Calloway County Jail for destruction according to law, according to the judge's office.

In other action, the judge fined Ricky King, Ramona Dunn and Ross King $114.50 each for possession of wild game out of season. Also in connection with that incident, in which a doe was allegedly killed out of season, charges against Margie King and Stanley King were dismissed.

Trial Date Set For Colson

Henry County Judge Dick Jerman Monday set Sept. 14 as the trial date for Jimmy W. Colson, a Hazel, Ky., construction worker charged with first degree murder in the March 8 death of Rodger Dale Moon.

Jerman also granted four routine defense motions submitted by Colson's attorney, Julian Guinn. Colson is charged with striking Moon on the head with a pool stick during a disturbance at the Burger Bar near Paris Landing. Moon died in Jackson-Madison County hospital several days following the incident.

Motions Jerman granted included allowing Guinn knowledge of "any agreement entered into by the district

Church Upsets Carter

Reagan Scores Key Triumph In Nebraska

By DAVE GOLDBERG

Associated Press Writer

Ronald Reagan has scored another key triumph in his quest for the Republican presidential nomination, but President Ford has come up with a victory of his own. Frank Church, meanwhile, has scored an upset in his Democratic primary debut.

Reagan continued his recent string of successes by capturing Tuesday's Nebraska primary, his second victory outside the Southern and Southwestern states that are supposed to be his strongholds. Ford, however, gained a split on the day by winning decisively in West Virginia.

Church, running in his first primary, upset Jimmy Carter in Nebraska and provided some hope for Democrats who want to stop the former Georgia governor from sweeping to the nomination. Carter won the party-run primary in Connecticut, but by a narrow margin over Rep. Morris K. Udall.

In the day's other Democratic contest, Sen. Robert C. Byrd, a favorite son, won in West Virginia with almost 90 per cent of the vote over Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, the only other candidate on the ballot.

These were the figures in the key races:

In Nebraska, with 97 per cent of the vote counted, Reagan had 110,846 votes, or 54 per cent, to 92,833 or 46 per cent, for Ford. In the separate race for the state's 25 nominating delegates, Reagan led for 17 and Ford for eight with 41 per cent of the vote in.

City School Board To Meet Thursday

The Murray City Board of Education will meet Thursday at the board office at seven p. m., according to Fred Schultz, Superintendent.

Included on the agenda, in addition to routine items, are a report on school study from Margaret Franklin; the recommendation of the budget committee; a recommendation on the school calendar; staff recommendations and the superintendent's report.

Local Hospital Recognized By Joint Accreditation Commission

As an accredited hospital, Murray-Calloway County Hospital and Convalescent Division has received recognition from the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH) in observance of National Hospital Week, May 9-15, 1976. The letter of commendation, signed by John D. Porterfield, M.D., Director of the Joint Commission, contained the following:

"The Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals commends your hospital for striving to deliver the optimum in health care to the community. Your participation in the process of voluntary accreditation is an expression of a professionally motivated commitment to deliver a high quality of patient care. The fact that you are accredited is evidence that your efforts toward this goal are successful."

Accreditation is awarded to hospitals that are found to be in substantial compliance with the Joint Commission's high standards for the quality of patient care provided. The standards are considered to be optimal achievable and represent goals of excellence against which a facility can measure itself and be measured by the Joint Commission's accreditation survey team.

Voluntary accreditation has made a significant contribution to this country's unmatched excellence in health care. It continues the American tradition of self-reliance and it supports the belief that positive motivation is the most effective impetus to change.

The Joint Commission, which is

In West Virginia, with 80 per cent of the vote counted, Ford had 67,467, or 56 per cent, to 52,201, or 44 per cent, for Reagan. The race for the 28 delegates was separate and they are by law nominally uncommitted.

In the Nebraska Democratic race, with 97 per cent of the vote, Church had 66,693 or 39 per cent of the votes to 64,810 or 38 per cent, for Carter. Church led for 15 delegates to eight for the former Georgia governor with 63 per cent of the count in. Nebraska has 23 Democratic delegates.

In the party-run Connecticut primary, Carter finished with 35,415 votes or 33 per cent to 32,959, or 31 per cent, for Udall. Sen. Henry M. Jackson, of Washington, who was backed by Gov. Ella Grasso and many party leaders, was third with 18,632.

Connecticut's 51 nominating delegates will be chosen later under a complex system of apportionment. Tuesday's results project out to 17 for Carter, 15 for Udall, 5 for Jackson and the rest uncommitted, but that could easily change.

In West Virginia, with 79 per cent of the vote counted, Byrd had 246,601 or 89 per cent to 31,968 or 11 per cent for Wallace.

Nancy Adams, left, and Sophie Sagrera, two of the chairmen of the Garden Fair to be held Saturday, May 15, from nine a.m. to one p.m. at the Murray Woman's Club House, pot plants for the fair. The event is being sponsored by the Garden Department of the club. Other chairmen are Birdie Gingles, Virginia Henry, Beryl Whaley, Lillian Graves, Lottie Key, and Mary Hamilton. Included in the fair will be crafts, cuttings, seedlings, foods, fresh produce, fresh flowers, and white elephant items to be sold. A Bicentennial table for antiques will also be shown. The public is urged to attend the fair on Saturday, according to the general chairmen, Margaret Vaughn and Laura Galloway. Refreshments will be served.

As one of the special activities during National Nursing Home Week, the patients in the Convalescent Division of Murray-Calloway County Hospital sent out "balloon messages." Twenty-six balloons, each containing the name of a patient were released Monday. "We hope that anyone who finds one of the balloons will write to or visit the patient," Juanita Spiceland, activity director for the Convalescent Division, said. Pictured above are Mrs. Spiceland (background) and the patients of the Convalescent Division of Murray-Calloway County Hospital releasing the helium balloons.

Miss Debra Graves Honored At Shower Held, Community Room

Miss Debra Joan Graves, bride-elect of Terry Doss, was the honoree at a bridal shower held on Tuesday, May 4, at the Community Room of the Federal Savings and Loan Building.

Receiving the guests were Miss Graves, her mother, Mrs. Joseph Graves, and her future mother-in-law, Mrs. William Doss. The honoree wore a dress of pale yellow and was presented a corsage of yellow carnations by the hostesses, Mrs. Joe Wimberly and Mrs. Noble Knight.

The bride-elect opened her gifts which were displayed on a table covered with yellow net over a white cloth draped and caught up with nosegays of daisies.

Refreshments of punch, cake, nuts, and mints were served in cut glass appointments at the table covered with a white lace cloth over yellow with a centerpiece of pastel yellow, green, and white daisies arranged in an antique cut glass compote. The honoree's color scheme of yellow and white was used throughout the room.

Thirty-five guests attended or sent gifts.

Phyllis Turner To Receive Degree

Miss Phyllis Ann Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Turner of Murray Route Two, will receive her bachelor of science degree in speech education from Bob Jones University, Greenville, S. C., at the 49th annual convocation to be held May 26.

Don't Force Your Man Off the Road

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a sales executive with a very large company that has hundreds of men on the road. He worked his way up from the ranks, enjoys his work and makes excellent money. The problem: He's gone more than he's home.

Our children are teenagers, and they need him home, Abby. I am also very lonely when he's away, and although friends invite me out, I don't enjoy going places without him.

I know that my husband is working hard to give his family all the material advantages that money can buy, but what good are they if the family is apart during these important years?

Would it be a mistake for me to talk to the wife of the company president and ask her to use her influences to take my husband off the road and keep him in the office in an executive capacity? Both she and her husband think a lot of me.

UNHAPPY WIFE

DEAR UNHAPPY: Please don't ask the company president's wife to take your husband off the road! (That would be like scalping a man to get rid of his dandruff.) Level with your husband about your feelings, but keep it strictly between yourselves.

DEAR ABBY: I went steady with Burton for six months, and then we broke up. Since then, I have heard that Burton has been bad-mouthing me to all my friends. Abby, I never gave him anything more than a goodnight kiss at the door, but he's going around telling everyone that he quit me because he got all he wanted!

MURIEL

DEAR MURIEL: Maybe that's all he wanted.

DEAR ABBY: A few weeks ago I sent my niece, whom I shall call "Jane," a very handsome and expensive Oriental bowl for a wedding gift.

I purchased the gift at a store where Jane never shops because she dislikes the owner.

When Jane received the gift, she phoned to tell me how much she liked it. A few days later I received the identical bowl from her with the following note: "For your new home. We liked it so much, we bought the same thing for you."

Abby, do you believe that Jane bought another bowl exactly like the one I sent? Or do you think it was the same bowl?

SUSPICIOUS

DEAR SUS: You know Jane better than I do. In any case, why complain? At least you received a house gift you truly like.

DEAR ABBY: Is it possible for a man to make a woman desire him without any desire whatsoever on his part?

E.

DEAR E.: Yes. Entertainers have this effect on some women.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Bridal Events Given In Honor Of Miss Dana Ward Puckett

Miss Dana Ward Puckett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Puckett of Fulton, May 15th bride-elect of John Reed Quermous, son of John C. Quermous, M.D., and Mrs. Quermous of Murray, was the honoree at two bridal events held recently.

A Champagne Brunch was held at the home of Mrs. Warren Tucker of Louisville. The brunch was served buffet style to twelve guests from a table beautifully decorated with fresh floral arrangements of yellow sweetheart roses and shasta daisies.

The guests were served mushroom eggs a la grecque, chicken breasts sauted in wine, fresh fruit compote, and an assortment of individual French pastries.

A coffee was held at The Barn Restaurant, Fulton, on April 10, with more than one hundred guests calling between the hours of ten a. m. and twelve noon.

The honoree wore a green silk dress accented with a multi-colored scarf and was presented a pewter cheese dish by the hostesses.

The serving table was covered with a lace cloth over pink and was centered with a crystal bowl filled with pink azaleas. The individual tables held crystal vases filled with pink dogwood. Sausage balls, finger sandwiches, assorted homemade cookies, coffee, and hot punch were served.

Presiding at the silver service were Mrs. Elizabeth Coplen, aunt of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Bill Holland, great aunt of the bride-elect. Mrs. Jim Owens, aunt of the honoree, was at the guest register. Mrs. William Ward, aunt of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Bill Fenwick, cousin of the honoree, were also hostesses.

Special guests were Mrs. Sonny Puckett, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. John Charles Quermous of Murray, mother of the groom-elect, and Mrs. Neal Ward of Fulton, maternal grandmother of Miss Puckett.

"Pictures Of Fashions" Theme Of Calloway FHA Style Show

The Calloway County High School Chapter of Future Homemakers of America held its annual style show at the school gym on April 20.

The theme for the event was "Pictures of Fashions." The stage was covered with a black backdrop and decorated with movie posters and a ticket booth.

Leslie Crisp, a home economic student teacher at Calloway, was in charge of the program, stage and was the announcer. The girls modeled clothing which they had made in home economics classes as well as those made as home projects. Skirts, blouses, dresses, pants, shorts, and jackets were only a few of the many items that were modeled.

Patricia (Crittter) McKenzie entertained the viewers during intermissions with several songs. She was accompanied by Joni Tidwell. The girls that modeled were Sherry Haley, Vicki Carraway, Peggy Potts, Jan Potts, Gail Smotherman, Tena Eldridge, Clara Adams, Linda Davis, Lisa Murdock, Regina Bean, Rita Edwards, Renee Tobey, Melody Smith, Lisa Smith, Debbie Eldridge, Rhonda Burkeen, Becky Blackford, Sherry Morris, Ruby Lane, Ginger Mitchell, Marion Adams, Dedra Coles, Karen Bynum, Sheila Bell, Jana Hopkins, Minda Hurt, Barbara Pierce, Janet Murdock, Bonnie Smith, Bonnie Parrish, Debbie Brooks, Clara Chaney, Martha McCallon, Charlotte Coursey, Carole Winchester, Teresa Gibson, Kathran Thorn, Sheila Kirk, Barbie Griffin, Lexie Turley, Nancy Murdock, Diane McCuiston.

Richard Neathamer who received both his Bachelor's and Master's of Music Education degrees from Murray State University and taught here on a graduate teaching assistantship, received a Master of Music Degree in trumpet at the May 9th commencement exercises at the University of Louisville School of Music.

Neathamer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Neathamer of Drakesboro. He started playing trumpet in the fifth grade and won the annual music award at the Drakesboro High School when he graduated in 1968. At Murray State he played in the concert band, brass choir, jazz band, and student brass quintet.

Donna Jones and Larry Stinson Are Honored At Bridal Events

Donna Jones and Larry Stinson, who will be married June 5, were honored with an Open House by Dr. and Mrs. S. M. Matarazzo, Dr. and Mrs. William Ryan and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Flood.

Guests were invited to the gracious home of the Matarazzo's and were received by the hostesses, Donna Jones, Dr. and Mrs. Jones and Mr. Stinson.

Garden flowers and roses were used throughout the house and on the serving table. Miss Jones was presented a daisy corsage and Mr. Stinson a daisy boutonniere.

On Wednesday friends of Miss Jones were entertained with a Snagria Party at the home of Mrs. John Bartholomew on Loch Lomond. Hostesses for this event were Mrs. Joe Prince, Mrs. John Bartholomew and Mrs. Max Brandon.

An informal arrangement of greenery was used on the serving table with the many varieties of cheeses for sampling. Sally Matarazzo and Jana Jones kept the guest register and served at the punch bowl.

The Cumberland Presbyterian Church of Fulton honored Miss Jones and Mr. Stinson with a tea shower on Sunday afternoon in the social hall of the church. Decoration and refreshments were planned by the social committee of the church.

The young couple greeted many members of the church and received many lovely gifts. In the receiving line with the honored couple were Mrs. Jones, Jana Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stinson of Hopkinsville.

Mrs. Larry Bell and Mrs. Alvis Jones were hostesses for a personal shower with members of Alpha Sigma Alpha as guests.

Mixed roses were used throughout the home of Mrs. Jones and the hostesses presented Miss Jones with a lovely red rose corsage. A delicious dessert was served and the bride-to-be received many gifts.

The home of Mrs. Maurice Humphrey was the scene of a coffee honoring Donna Jones on Saturday.

Hostesses for this occasion were Mrs. Humphrey, Mrs. John Ed Scott, Mrs. Eli Alexander and Mrs. George Lilly. They presented Donna and her mother with daisy corsages.

The serving table was covered with a linen cloth and daisies were used as the center piece. Coffee punch and many delicious tidbits were enjoyed by friends as they called throughout the morning.

Have A Healthy Birthday, America

During the week of May 9-15, Murray-Calloway County Hospital is joining with the nation's 7,000 hospitals, and the American Hospital Association in the observance of National Hospital Week.

In this period of bicentennial awareness, this year's National Hospital Week theme, "Healthy Birthday, America!" seems altogether fitting and appropriate.

We can take pride in the quality of health care services in our community and our nation. And we can doubly take pride in the fact that the Murray-Calloway County Hospital has been named to receive three statewide honors in competition with 18 hospitals throughout the state.

Yet, during this celebration, our hospital hopes to do more than highlight our upcoming birthday observance and its many quality health care programs.

During this observance, hospitals across the nation will be encouraging each American to take a moment to think about his own health.

Today, many health care experts are joining hospitals in suggesting that a way to improve each individual's health is to increase his awareness of what he can do to improve or stabilize his own state of health. Health economist Victor Fuchs writes in his new book, Who Shall Live?, "The greatest current potential for improving the health of the American people is to be found in what they do and don't do to and for themselves. Individual decisions about diet, exercise and smoking are of critical importance."

Supporting Mr. Fuchs' contention, recent studies have shown that life expectancy and better health care are significantly related to a number of basic individual habits including: three meals a day at regular times, breakfast every day, moderate exercise, seven or eight hours of sleep each night, no smoking, maintenance of a moderate weight level, and no alcohol or alcohol in moderation.

Accordingly, during this year's National Hospital Week, our local hospital is urging you to think about your own health. Think about participating in the health education or health screening program offered through your hospital and your community, and think about contributing to your own well being by adopting a more health-conscious life style.

Working together, you and your community hospital can help guarantee that all of America's future birthdays will be healthy ones, and that you will be there to share them.

Ford Playing High-Stakes Politics In Reagan Battle

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Special Correspondent

President Ford is playing high-risk politics in his struggle with Ronald Reagan for the Republican presidential nomination, raising the stakes state by state — and now he has virtually everything wagered on victory in Michigan next Tuesday.

There and in Maryland there is suddenly the chance of an opening for Democrats out to stop Jimmy Carter, still the dominant candidate for their nomination.

His string of primary victories was halted abruptly by Sen. Frank Church, an upset winner in Nebraska in his debut as a candidate.

Reagan gained 54 per cent of the vote to beat Ford in the Republican primary in Nebraska. Ford won in West Virginia with 56 per cent of the GOP ballots.

And while Carter was losing a close one in Nebraska, he won narrowly over Rep. Morris K. Udall in Connecticut.

Those decisions in Tuesday's primaries were the prelude to bigger tests next week.

Reagan confronts Ford in Michigan, the President's home state. Udall tests Carter there, while California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. challenges the Democratic frontrunner in Maryland.

Since Reagan started winning on May Day, Ford and his managers have pointed each week to the next set of primaries, calling them crucial ones.

That won't work in Michigan. Rogers C. B. Morton, the Ford campaign manager, said the President will have to win there to "prove he's viable ... to get his campaign turned around."

Another Ford strategist acknowledged that a defeat at home would put the President in deep trouble. Ford was campaigning there today, and returning this weekend. Reagan was to hunt Michigan votes Thursday and Friday.

The Ford team is worried about possible crossover voting by conservative Democrats in Michigan now that George C. Wallace is virtually finished as a candidate. Wallace won the Democratic primary there four years ago, with 809,239 votes.

Reagan noted pointedly that his Nebraska victory was in a Republican-only primary, with none of the crossover vote Ford managers had blamed for earlier losses to the challenger. "This confirms my support is not a Wallace vote," he said.

Nonetheless, his Michigan organization is working to entice Democrats across the party boundary, into the Republican primary this time. Those Wallace votes are going to go somewhere.

Church, meanwhile, said he was stunned with a Nebraska primary victory he called a miracle. Udall said that vote, and his close second in Connecticut, meant Carter's bandwagon had been stalled.

"Well, I can't win them all," the black-tied Carter said after a Democratic congressional fundraising dinner in Washington. "As far as a bandwagon goes, take one state at a time and campaign in all of them."

But unless he starts winning again next week, the stop-Carter effort he thought he had quashed by driving Sen. Henry M. Jackson out of active competition may be revived.

And that would mean new hope for the Democrats who seek to head him off and try to win another nomination for Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, who is not running but stresses at every opportunity that he is available.

Carter remains the commanding leader in Democratic delegate strength, his total at a projected 594 pending final counts in Nebraska and Connecticut. It will take 1,505 to choose a Democratic nominee.

Reagan increased his lead over Ford, with incomplete returns putting his GOP delegate count at 417. Ford has 316, and there are 378 uncommitted delegates. The magic number for Republican nomination is 1,130.

Nebraska
With 97 per cent of the precincts counted:

Reagan 110,846 or 54 per cent.

Ford 92,833 or 46 per cent.

An example of big government spending for nebulous purposes is seen in an HEW gift of $700,000 to a group of professional associations "to train a staff to train a larger staff to train the nation's high school guidance counselors and other related school personnel."

With the national debt and annual deficits climbing higher and higher, it would seem that the schools could be trusted to provide their own guidance personnel until big spending for nebulous purposes becomes a little easier for the taxpayers to bear.

Let's Stay Well

Helping Burn Victims

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

A major burn is a most traumatic tragedy to the victim and his family and friends. The pain and suffering can be almost intolerable. Even with expert, diligent care, the outcome can be disappointing, if not fatal.

The National Committee on Fire Prevention and Control estimates that 300,000 fire injuries take place annually in the United States. About 50,000 of these cases require hospitalization because of burns, and approximately 12,000 of them die.

Most physicians readily agree that a severe burn places a greater burden on the victim than does any other injury, affecting almost every organ in the body. Management of such cases requires exceptionally clean, skillfully operated, complicated facilities which are costly to create and maintain. In fact, they are lacking in many major cities.

Notable are the Shriners-supported burn centers which give free, first-rate care in Boston, Galveston and Cincinnati. These are highly specialized facilities which handle severe cases from widely separated areas of the country. The victims often are flown in by plane from great distances.

Burns on the face, hands and genitalia are exceptionally difficult to manage and require skilled care. These sites are often regarded as critical areas.

Infection is the burn victim's worst enemy and can be made more likely by inappropriate first aid. Keep fresh burns clean and protected.

While safety education about the dangers of fire and the prevention of burns is the preferred treatment, keep the following points in mind to help save a burn victim's life:

1. If a person near you catches on fire, smother the flames by rolling the victim on the ground. Use blankets or similar coverings, such as towels, coats or large pieces of clothing, to put out the flames.

2. Apply cool water to the burned areas — this lessens pain and swelling. Never apply butter or grease.

3. Remove rings, bracelets and other jewelry before tissue swells.

4. Seek immediate help for any burn, especially if it is on a critical area, except a first-degree burn (when skin is reddened as in a mild sunburn).

5. Move the burned person as soon as possible if hospital care is needed.

FDA Will Not Lift Ban On Cyclamate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has written what may be the final chapter in the bittersweet saga of cyclamate, the sugar substitute discovered by accident in 1937, consumed by millions of calorie-conscious Americans and banned as a potential health hazard in 1969.

The Food and Drug Administration announced late Tuesday that it will not lift its cyclamate ban because of "grave questions" about the risk to humans of cancer, genetic damage and reproductive injury.

Commissioner Alexander M. Schmidt said he knew many people "would be willing to assume a reasonable risk," but concluded that "FDA must name its approval on an assurance that general availability of cyclamate for everyday use by anyone would be safe. I cannot give that assurance, and thus cannot approve its use at this time."

McGuffey Asks For Continued Writing Malpractice Coverage

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky Insurance Commissioner Harold McGuffey is seeking to persuade the handful of companies writing medical malpractice insurance in Kentucky to continue doing so during court action on Kentucky's new malpractice act.

McGuffey said he welcomes the test suit, filed in federal court at Lexington, but added that the litigation may take months to settle and he wants to keep the current system operating in the meantime.

The suit challenges the malpractice law passed by the 1976 General Assembly. The act would create a compensation fund to pay settlements more than $100,000 and a risk pool to provide coverage when malpractice insurance is not available on the open market.

Hearing Set On Strip Mine Permit

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A hearing is scheduled for June 1 on a B&H Elkhorn Coal Co. application for a permit to strip mine in Floyd County.

The hearing was originally scheduled for Tuesday. The state Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection announced Tuesday that the session would be held June 1 at Martin in Floyd County.

Schmidt asked Abbott Laboratories of North Chicago, Ill., to withdraw its 1973 petition seeking approval of cyclamate. Otherwise, his letter said, the FDA will formally deny the request in 30 days.

Abbott vice president Richard W. Kasperon said no decision had been made on withdrawing the petition. It could be resubmitted if new evidence were presented, or the firm could seek a new administrative hearing, which might be a prelude to a federal court contest.

"If we withdraw the petition," he said, "I would assume that would be the end of it. It's certainly a disappointment."

Cyclamate was discovered in 1937 by Michel Sveda, then a chemistry student at the University of Illinois who noted a sweet taste in a cigarette he accidentally put down in a chemical compound.

Dozens of studies, the first in 1951, have failed to come up with a certain answer on whether cyclamate does pose a cancer risk.

At the FDA's request, the National Cancer Institute assembled a committee of scientists to take a fresh look at the studies, but the panel reported in February that safety questions "can't be answered."

Present evidence "does not establish the carcinogenicity (cancer-causing potential) of cyclamate ... in experimental animals," the scientists said, but "no conclusion could be reached concerning the question of cyclamate's potential carcinogenicity in humans."

Schmidt said "grave questions remain as to its cancer-causing potential in experimental animal tests and, by inference, in man." He cited studies suggesting that cyclamate may cause genetic damage when used at levels "not far in excess of that possible in ordinary consumption," as well as birth defects and reproductive damage.

While safe levels of cyclamate intake might be possible for humans, they would be so low "that only very restricted use could be envisioned, and the safety margin would be insufficient to allow general use of cyclamate in manufactured foods such as soft drinks."

'Unofficial' Demonstration By Anti-Busing Protestors Planned

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Anti-busing protesters plan to stage an "unofficial" demonstration Friday night near the hotel where President Ford is scheduled to speak.

It will be his first campaign appearance in Kentucky before the state's May 25 presidential primary.

The President called off a planned appearance here last October because of the prospect of antibusing protests.

Bill Kellerman, head of Citizens Against Busing, and Jack Shore, president of Union Labor Against Busing, said Tuesday members of their groups would gather on the sidewalks near the hotel but would not march.

Ford's visit was confirmed only Monday and there was no time for the antibusing leaders to obtain a parade permit for Friday.

"But I don't believe we need a permit to demonstrate," said Shore, whose group claims a membership of 140,000 persons. "We will be on the sidewalks. I hope we can get as many down there as we can get."

Shore said he would ask President Ford in a telegram to meet with him personally at the hotel.

"If he can't stop busing, nobody can," Shore said.

Shore organized and led two antibusing marches in Washington. The most recent march there several weeks ago fizzled when only about 4,000 of a predicted 40,000 demonstrators showed up.

Kellerman said during the weekend that "for the most part, the days of organized marching and street protests are over" and announced that the movement had changed its tactics. Instead of marching, Kellerman said money would be raised for an "American Freedom Fund" and that a $1 million reward would be given to anyone who could end court-ordered busing for school desegregation by having it ruled unconstitutional.

"My group itself won't demonstrate, but individuals in the group will," Kellerman said. "I won't be there, I've got to work, but it's been decided all along that we'd do something if he ever came."

Kellerman said "we were looking for him to come down here in April but it was cancelled out."

He said there "will be people down there, I would say several hundred," in front of the hotel where the President is scheduled to make a speech at the annual Armed Forces Day dinner.

"If it's not organized, I don't think you need a permit," he said of plans to stage a demonstration. "We are not emphasizing this, we aren't passing out flyers."

He said there was "some unofficial, behind the scenes type of organization going on" for a demonstration.

Louisville Public Safety Director Allen Bryan agreed that no permit is needed for individuals to demonstrate but he said "they are subject to arrest if they violate the law, and it's not hard to violate the law."

"It covers just about any type of protest-type activity," Bryan said.

Police Chief John Nevin said he intends "to have sufficient force available to deal with the situation."

"I could handle quite a few people standing across the street in a peaceful manner," Nevin said. "If the situation got disorderly I would ask them to disperse. We're not against peaceful demonstrations."

Bryan said scattered demonstrators will be allowed, but he added that "if it's several hundred of them, and they are on the sidewalk, and they have signs, they are going to have a problem with us."

He said officers on the scene will determine if a crowd becomes too large.

"Our policy has been to use discretion based on whether they are disrupting traffic or creating a disturbance," Bryan said. "We'll have a significant number of extra people working just because the President will be here. What we plan will depend on what intelligence reveals of the 'unorganized unorganization' they do between now and Friday."

Ford's trip last fall was called off at the height of the antibusing furor here. He had planned to speak at a GOP fund-raising dinner.

This time, Ford's visit is scheduled one day after his chief rival for the GOP presidential nomination, Ronald Reagan, completes two days of campaigning in the state.

At the recent Kentucky GOP convention and in district elections around the state, 27 delegates supporting Reagan were selected to eight for the President, Republican officials said. Two were uncommitted.

The personal preferences of the delegates, however, make no difference since they will be bound on the first ballot at the national convention by the results of the May 25 primary.

In calling off his trip here last October, the President said during a nationally televised news conference that he cancelled it because antibusing protests had caused "some local disturbances."

Destructive antibusing protests erupted in September after the fall school term began under a desegregation plan that required some 20,000 of the system's 130,000 pupils to be bused for racial balance.

La Costa Has Future Plans

by J. D. Lancaster

Perhaps one of the toughest up and coming names on the country and pop female vocal scene is La Costa. La Costa performed at Kaintuck Territory along with Moe Bandy Sunday afternoon.

La Costa revealed to us a little about her past and what she plans to do in the future.

La Costa is a Tucker and is the sister of country singer Tanya Tucker. "I've been singing since I was four and later entered talent contests in junior and senior high school," said La Costa. "It was dad that helped me get started—he had faith in me. He told me that he could get me a contract. I accepted and he became my first manager. We now have a corporation—La Costa corporation, Inc. and they help plan my future."

La Costa is presently married to Darrell Sorenson who used to be a pilot and now acts as her road manager for the three or more performances she gives each week. In fact, La Costa mentioned that her husband, brother and dad are professional pilots.

"I have a new single entitled 'Lovin' Somebody on a Rainy Night' which is produced by Jerry Crutchfield," said La Costa. Her next album will probably be released within two months or so. "When cutting albums, you can do it in a week; but we are choosy and it will take a month to record my next album."

The perennial question was asked La Costa about how she felt about the country music crossover situation involving country artists singing in pop fields as well as rock artists singing in country fields of music. "I think it's great—it's saying that you want to appeal to a broader audience," said La Costa. "However, some people need to be real country such as the Ernest Tubbs and the Dolly Partons. But as far as my spectrum, I want to do all kinds of songs. Country audiences stick with you for life while pop audiences may stick with you for one song," she said.

When asked about tape piracy which is the production and selling of illegal tapes, La Costa thought that the legislatures should pass stiffer laws against tape pirates. "The artists spill their guts out in the studios at high expenses while tape pirates make a quick buck—something ought to be done!" La Costa exclaimed.

"My goal is to be the best and right now is not the right time," said La Costa. "Expenses are tough on the road; but we're reaching goals faster. I have lots of confidence with my producer, Jerry Crutchfield. I hope to have more concerts, more members to my band and more lighting effects. One thing I would love to do is to get into the movies, especially an outdoors or wilderness picture," she said.

Bayless And Thurmond Key Tigers To 17-1 Win

By MIKE BRANDON
Lester & Times Sports Editor
There's a new law firm in town and they are really doing the business.

The new firm is called Thurmond and Bayless. They did the business just fine Tuesday afternoon as they laid down the law to the Marshalls of Marshall County.

Tony Thurmond, a senior flamethrower, scattered three hits and clouted a homerun to boot while slugger Tony Bayless blasted two homeruns and drove in seven as Murray High cruised to a 17-1 romp over the Marshalls in the District Tournament at the Calloway County High School diamond.

And then in the top of the second, it was all over as the Tigers posted seven runs on the board. Thurmond opened the second by drawing a base on balls and catcher Mickey McCuiston laid down a perfect bunt. The bunt was so perfect that Marshall County pitcher Larry Schaper made a very imperfect throw to first and the runners wound up on second and third.

Jeff Oakley walked to fill the sacks and then Bill Wilson drew a walk to boost the Tigers into a 1-0 lead. After one man had been retired, Lindsey Hudspeth walked and the Tigers were up 2-0.

A wild pitch brought in another run and Bo McDougal reached on a throwing error by Schaper to send home another tally and up the lead to 4-0.

Then Bayless uncorked his first homerun of the contest, a towering shot well over 375 feet away from homeplate, giving the Tigers a 7-0 lead.

In the fourth, Bayless came up with the bases loaded and sent one all the way to the lake, chasing in four runs with the homer and it was all over.

Marshall County's only run was an unearned one and it came in the fifth when Jeff Copeland reached on an error, went to third on a double by Larry Telle and scored on a sacrifice fly by Kenny Solomon.

Murray added six more runs in the sixth with Thurmond having a solo homer, Bob Thurman a two-run double, Hudspeth an RBI single and Bill Wilson an RBI double.

The win for the Tigers snapped a four-game losing skid.

"We just felt good before the game," Tiger Coach Charles Archer said.

"Everyone seemed to break out of it. We knew we had the hitters. The kids kept playing, even though we had the big lead. I think now they realize they can go somewhere," Archer added.

Thurmond fanned 11 batters and walked four.

"What can you say about Thurmond? Every time the kid pitches, he pitches a great game," Archer added.

The win gives Murray High a 12-9 record on the season.

The Tigers will play at 4 p.m. today against Calloway County for the District title.

Murray has taken two previous contests with the Lakers.

Joe Graves will start on the hill for Murray while Dickie Nesbitt will pitch for the 8-9 Lakers.

Both teams will be playing in the Regional Tournament which will be held next week at Calloway County High School.

HOMERUN HITTER—Tony Bayless of the Tigers receives congratulations in the dugout from his teammates after blasting his second homer of the day, a grand slam. Bayless drove in seven of the Murray High 17 runs.

THE MASTER AT WORK—Tony Thurmond kept the ball down low and kept it fast all day as the Tigers eliminated Marshall County from District play Tuesday with a 17-1 win. Thurmond fanned 11 men while walking four and gave up just three hits.

Cavaliers Hoping To Tie Celtics Tonight

By GEORGE STRODE
AP Sports Writer
CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's young Cavaliers, back on their game of sparse mistakes, are confident they can pull even with Boston's veteran Celtics Friday night in the National Basketball Association semifinals.

"We're known for a team that doesn't turn the ball over. When we do, we're in trouble," reflected Bill Fitch after his Cavaliers committed only seven mistakes in an 83-78 verdict over the Celtics Tuesday night.

It had been an entirely different story in Cleveland's opening two losses to Boston in the best-of-7 Eastern Conference finals. The Cavaliers erred 17 times in Game One, 24 in Game Two.

Fitch also lauded his team's fluid defense that contained Boston on a 34 per cent shooting night. "We stopped their break just as good as anybody has," he said.

Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn wasn't that impressed, grumbling, "We played high school offense. We didn't make them play."

Cleveland has rationed the Celtics' famed offense to an average of 86 points in the last two playoff games, a fact disturbing to Heinsohn.

"We've got to rectify a lot of things before Friday. We're going to have to talk about it," he said.

Meanwhile, Fitch was confident the Cavaliers could reach the finals in their first try at the NBA playoffs.

"This is the only team I've coached that can get down 3-1 and still win it. I'm hopeful we can get out of here with a 2-2 split. I think we can," said Fitch.

Jim Clemons, whose 18 points led the victory, said the Cavaliers are becoming accustomed to playing with Nate Thurmond. The 34-year-old center has been pressed into duty because of injured regular Jim Chones, out with a broken toe.

Thurmond, the darling of an NBA playoff record-tying Coliseum throng of 21,564, steadies Cleveland's defense, handling Dave Cowens in the middle.

Thurmond, who has limited Cowens to 48 points in three games, knows he's on the spot.

"If we can keep Cowens from dominating the series, I think we can win it. If anyone can hold him down, I think I can," said Thurmond.

Heinsohn and Cowens appear ruffled over all the fuss of the matchup at center.

"Thurmond is not a factor," said a scowling Heinsohn. "I'm tired of hearing he's a factor."

Cowens, who scored 19 against the 6-foot-11 veteran Tuesday night, said of his rival's defense: "It was okay. He blocked a couple of shots. He should, as big as he is."

Boston's hopes have been damaged with a foot injury to John Havlicek. The 35-year-old forward managed just nine points in the third game.

Jo Jo White's 22 points paced Boston. Cleveland put four players in double figures, headed by Clemons' 18 and 17 by reserve guard Austin Carr.

Phoenix plays at Golden State tonight in the fifth game of their best-of-seven Western Conference final with the series tied 2-2.

TENNIS
LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Second-seeded Arthur Ashe defeated Anand Amritraj 7-5, 6-1 in opening-round action of the $150,000 Alan King Tennis Classic.

BOURNEMOUTH, England — Chris Lewis, of New Zealand, defeated Spain's Juan Gisbert 6-2, 6-4 in the British Hard Court Tennis Championships.

The Murray High girls' tennis team raised its season record to a perfect 9-0 by winning 9-0 over Caldwell County Tuesday.

In the number one singles, Kathy Outland won 8-6 over Mitzi Nichols while at number two, Candy Jackson of the Tigers defeated Cindy Fralix 8-3.

The number three singles found Robyn Burke winning 8-1 over Lisa DelBuono while at number four, Carol Dick blasted Holly Schaper 8-1.

At the number five spot, Catherine Dick won 8-3 over Dina Schaper while in the sixth singles position, Susan Stripling downed Anita Carrington 8-0.

Jackson-Burke won 8-3 at the number one doubles position over Nichols-Fralix while at number two, Outland and Carol Dick won 8-1 over DelBuono and Dina Schaper.

In the number three doubles, Catherine Dick and Stripling won 8-2 over Carrington and Holly Schaper.

The Tiger girls will host St. Mary Friday.

The Wranglers Riding Club will ride Friday night at 7 p.m. in the riding pen.

Everyone who enjoys horseback riding is welcome to go out to the Wranglers Club and participate in the 27 riding events to be held.

Spectators are welcome and there is no charge for riding or watching. Food will be available in the concession stand.

The Wranglers Riding Club is located about four miles east of Murray on Van Cleave Road.

Track Sixth, Tennis Seventh And Golf Last

Martyn Brewer Gets New Record In Mile

Spring sports at Murray State University tumbled to an all-time low Tuesday at Clarksville as the Racers track team finished sixth, tennis seventh and golf last in the Ohio Valley Conference Championships.

There was only one bright spot in all of the spring sports championships for Murray State. It came in the mile-run at the track meet in Memorial Stadium.

Sophomore Englishman Martyn Brewer last fall walked into the dressing room in Stewart Stadium. Up on a bulletin board, there is a big poster listing each member of the team and his goal.

Brewer simply set his goal at running a 4:05 mile. He did a little better than that Tuesday. Running the best race of his career, Brewer recorded a new school record of 4:04.39 and broke the old mark of Sam Torres set in 1973. Torres' old record was 4:04.7.

Brewer finished second to Irishman Ray Flynn of East Tennessee who ran a 4:02.57 and tied the OVC record set by Nick Rose of Western Kentucky in 1973.

Murray had two other second-place finishes. Cuthbert Jacobs ran a 21.1 and was second in the 220-yard dash behind Johnny Williams of Austin Peay who was clocked in 21.0. Jacobs nearly caught Williams at the wire and it's doubtful whether there was really a second difference in the times.

In the 440-yard dash, senior Lester Flax took second with a time of 47.7. Bryan Robinson of Eastern won with a 47.3.

The Murray State mile-relay team of Sylvester Onyekwe, Dennis Mabbitt, Jacobs and Flax was second in 3:12.3.

The only third place for Murray was a big disappointment in which Jacobs placed third in the 100-yard dash with a 9.6. Williams won in 9.4 while teammate Coveak Moody of the Governors was second in 9.6.

The 440-relay team placed fifth and would have finished much higher had not leadoff man Stanford "Little Joe" Patrick pulled a muscle.

But Patrick, who had qualified to run in the finals of the 100-yard dash, showed his guts as he kept on running and did not quit, even though in great pain. Running the other three legs were Jacobs, Flax and Patmore Chatham.

Murray was clocked in 41.6.

Murray got two places in the three-mile run with Brian Rutter taking fifth in 14:06.8 while freshman Ralph Cheek was sixth with a personal best of 14:09.9.

The only place in the field events on Tuesday was a sixth by Kevin Caines in the triple jump. Caines went 50-0 even.

A crowd of over 3,000 watched as the hometown Austin Peay team dethroned 12-year champion Western Kentucky.

The Peay rolled up 119 points while Middle Tennessee was second with 87 and Western was third with 82½.

Other team scores included Tennessee Tech 58, Eastern Kentucky 50, Murray State 48, East Tennessee 42 and Morehead 40½.

Middle Tennessee took honors in the tennis as the Blue Raiders dethroned Western Kentucky. Scores were: Middle 30, Western 22, Morehead 14, Eastern 12, Austin Peay 9, Tech 8, Murray 6 and East Tennessee 4.

In the number three singles, Murray's Roger Westfall fell 6-2 and 6-1 in the finals to Western's Svante Malmsten.

East Tennessee, one of the nation's top golf teams, cruised to an incredible win in the golf competition held at Fall Creek Falls, Tenn.

The Bucs rolled to a 33-stroke margin of victory over runnerup Middle Tennessee. East Tennessee shot an even par 866 for the 54 holes of golf.

The Bucs' Skeeter Heath won the individual title for the second consecutive year as he fired a 212 on rounds of 74, 67 and 71.

Team scores were: East Tennessee 866, Middle Tennessee 899, Morehead 905, Eastern Kentucky 908, Austin Peay 914, Western Kentucky 914, Tech 919 and Murray 927.

Although the results of the race for the All-Sports Trophy in the OVC are not completed, it would probably be safe to assume Murray State finished last.

Braves Finally Manage To Snap Losing Streak

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

How long is a 13-game losing streak?

"About two heart attacks and several sleepless nights," says Dave Bristol, manager of the Atlanta Braves.

Bristol finally was able to get a good night's sleep Tuesday after his Braves posted an 8-7 decision over the New York Mets, ending the longest losing streak in major league baseball this season.

But it didn't come easy. The Braves blew a 7-5 lead in the late innings and had to come back to win on Rowland Office's RBI single with two out in the ninth.

"No human being knows the joy that goes on inside you after breaking a streak like that," Bristol said. "It's a big burden off 30 guys."

In other National League games, the Chicago Cubs beat the San Francisco Giants 4-0, the Philadelphia Phillies whipped the San Diego Padres 9-1, the Cincinnati Reds shut out the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-0, the Los Angeles Dodgers blanked the St. Louis Cardinals 4-0 and the Houston Astros beat the Montreal Expos 5-3.

After Office drove home Marty Perez with his ninth-inning single, the Atlanta dugout emptied and the young outfielder was mobbed coming off first base.

"I looked up and thought we had won the World Series," he said.

Reds 6, Pirates 0
Gary Nolan, who hasn't allowed a run in his last 18

Phillies 9, Padres 1
Steve Carlton stopped San Diego on six hits to help the first-place Phillies to their ninth victory in the last 10 games. Philadelphia scored six runs in the first two innings, then major league home run leader Mike Schmidt belted his 13th of the season, a two-run shot, in the eighth.

Astros 5, Expos 3
Homers by Jose Cruz and Cliff Johnson highlighted a five-run first inning that carried Houston over Montreal.

Expos starter Clay Kirby, 0-2, failed to retire a batter. Larry Milbourne and Enos Cabell walked, Cruz belted a three-run homer, Bob Watson walked and Johnson smacked a two-run homer, knocking out Kirby.

Reliever Tom Griffin got the victory, allowing just one hit in 4-1/3 innings.

Dodgers 4, Cards 0
Ron Cey hit two home runs and Joe Ferguson one to back the five-hit pitching of Don Sutton, who posted his 42nd career shutout. The three homers gave the Dodgers 16 in their last seven games.

Cubs 4, Giants 0
Chicago snapped a five-game losing streak, scoring all its runs in the sixth inning. Manny Trillo belted a two-run double to highlight the uprising.

Lakers Take Two Wins In Track Meet

Calloway County won a pair of track meets Tuesday afternoon over visiting Reidland.

The Laker girls crushed Reidland 115-4 and swept all of the events in the meet.

The Laker boys had a little closer meet but still cruised to an easy 90-42 win. Terry Clark set a new school record by throwing the discus 124.4 for the Lakers.

The meet was the last of the season for both Laker teams who will participate in the Regional Track Meet Friday at Paducah Tilghman.

Cinderella Canadiens Stun Defending Champion Flyers

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer

MONTREAL (AP) — With Guy Lapointe in the penalty box for holding late in the second period of a scoreless Stanley Cup playoff hockey game, the Montreal Canadiens hardly expected to score a goal against the Philadelphia Flyers.

Philadelphia netminder Wayne Stephenson had frustrated Montreal all night with some dazzling stops, and after all, the Canadiens were a man down.

That's when Flyers defenseman Larry Goodenough got the puck in the neutral zone. Canadiens center Jacques Lemaire, helping kill the penalty at the time, tells the rest.

"He was coming up the ice and he lost the puck in his skates," recalled Lemaire. "He put his head down to find it, and as soon as he did that, I went for it."

The puck was Lemaire's and the path to Stephenson was clear. With teammate Jim Roberts to his left and no Philadelphia player — except Stephenson — in sight, it took only a few skating strides and a flick of the wrists before the Canadiens had a short-handed goal, a 1-0 lead and a solid grip on the game they won 2-1 Tuesday night.

Goodenough had committed the cardinal sin. "When you're the last man back with the puck, you should never try to beat anybody," said Flyers assistant coach Barry Ashbee. "It's a hard way to learn, but he'll probably never do it again."

Philadelphia defenseman Tom Bladen could have learned from Goodenough's error, but made a similar one in the third period when his pass toward Bill Barber found the stick of Montreal's Guy Lafleur instead. This time defenseman Joe Watson was back, but his retreat screened Stephenson from the 30-foot shot Lafleur unleashed.

So for the first time since May 1, 1973, the Canadiens have a 2-0 lead in a National Hockey League playoff final. For the fifth time in a row the Flyers have left this city without a victory, a winless string that began during the 1974-75 season.

The reason was a team effort lauded by Montreal Coach Scotty Bowman and most of the Canadiens players.

"We played 59 perfect minutes," said Bowman, subtracting the one minute in which Dave Schultz sent a 20-foot wrist shot past goalie Ken Dryden. But the goal came with just 2:35 remaining, and Philadelphia just couldn't get away from the fierce Canadiens checking to tie the contest.

Flyers Coach Fred Shero isn't about to give up. "If we can't win four out of five games, we don't belong in the league. I think we can take them; I won't say over-all, but in the next game, anyway. We have to get it tied first before we think of the whole series."

But it seems that Philadelphia will have to get even more scoring from its powerful line of left wing Bill Barber, center Bobby Clarke and right wing Reggie Leach. Bottled up by the strongest Canadiens' checking shown so far, the line which accounted for 141 regular season goals was never a factor in Tuesday night's contest.

Nuggets Trail By One Game, Edge By Nets

By JOHN MOSSMAN
AP Sports Writer

DENVER (AP) — When they needed it most, the Denver Nuggets rediscovered the formula that had produced such successful results during the regular season.

With balanced scoring, a fastbreak offense, pressing defense and a patented third-quarter blitz, the Nuggets fought back into contention in the American Basketball Association championship series, beating the New York Nets 118-110 Tuesday night.

The victory trimmed the Nets' advantage in the best-of-seven series to 3-2. Game Six is scheduled for Thursday night at Uniondale, N.Y. A seventh game, if necessary, would be played in Denver Sunday.

A number of Denver players, including rookie David Thompson, were convinced that a seventh game would, indeed, be required.

"I think we have a great chance of winning the next game," said Thompson, who scored nine of Denver's 42 points in the big third quarter.

"If we play as well as we did tonight, especially in the third quarter, we'll beat them for sure."

The Nuggets appeared on the brink of extinction when, beset by turnovers and poor shooting, they dropped 16 points behind the Nets in the second period. Brian Taylor scored on three straight layups to highlight a 12-point spurt by the Nets.

But Denver was revived by a brilliant performance from Gus Gerard, who came off the bench to score eight straight Denver points and help the Nuggets reduce the deficit to six points at the half.

"Gus kept us in the game in the first half," said Denver Coach Larry Brown. "In the second half we went to work to initiate the tempo and overplay defensively."

Its feared fast break in high gear, Denver hit eight of its first 11 shots in the third period and pulled out to a 16-point lead by the end of the stanza. Guard Chuck Williams had 10 points and the Nuggets shot 68 per cent during the period. New York played catch-up the final quarter but, despite the efforts of Julius Erving and John Williamson, got no closer than four points, at 114-110, with 55 seconds left. The Net rally fell short when Denver playmaking guard Monte Towe drove the lane and scored with 33 seconds left, and Dan Issel added a layup with five seconds remaining.

Williamson, in foul trouble most of the game, came off the bench early in the final period after Taylor was ejected for throwing a punch at Towe. He tossed in 18 of his game-high 37 points.

"Denver came out really smokin' in the second half," said Erving, who also paced all rebounders with 15. "We let the game swing in their direction."

New York Coach Kevin Loughery agreed. "We let them back in the game in the second half, then we got in foul trouble," he said.

Issel and Ralph Simpson led the Denver attack with 21 points each. Williams added 20, Thompson 19 and Bobby Jones 17.

Boston Red Sox Are Becoming Red Faces

Tiger Boys Barely Nip Purple Flash

Undefeated Murray High got a scare on their home tennis courts Tuesday afternoon but the Tigers survived with a 5-4 win over Lone Oak.

Murray High broke even in the singles, winning three and losing three.

Mel Purcell, playing at number one, crushed Phillip Foster 8-0 while at number two, Kim Trevathan romped Jeff Clark 8-2.

The Tigers' first singles loss was at number three where Rob Echols defeated Brad Boone 8-4. At number four, David Wilkins of Lone Oak upended Mark Homra of the Tigers 8-2.

Ashley Smock, an eighth grader, won his number five match for the Tigers by edging Mark Schlappach 8-5. At number six, eighth grader Mickey Cochran fell 8-3 to Barry Tidwell.

In the number one doubles, Purcell-Homra defeated Foster-Tidwell 8-2 while at number two, Trevathan-Boone won 8-3 over Clark-Wilkins. The only loss came at the third spot where Smock-Cochran fell 8-6 to Echols and Doug Stroud.

The Tigers are now 7-0 on the season and will play at Marshall County Thursday.

the Cleveland Indians for their 10th straight setback.

That hasn't happened in Boston since 1960 and obviously not in the talent-rich reign of Johnson, who led the Red Sox to the American League pennant last season.

"We're leaving our best players out there and giving it everything just trying to play our game," said Johnson. "You can't always score a lot of runs or get good pitching. But when we have one, we don't seem to have the other."

Alan Ashby slammed a three-run home run and Pat Dobson and Stan Thomas combined to pitch a five-hitter as Cleveland extended Boston's losing string. Dobson, 3-3, gave up three runs in the first inning before settling down. With one out, Denny Doyle reached first on an error by second baseman Duane Kuiper, Fred Lynn singled and Carlton Fisk followed with his second homer of the year.

Cleveland got back one run off Boston starter Ferguson Jenkins, 1-5, in the first inning. Buddy Bell walked with two out and Rico Carty doubled him home. Jenkins nursed the 3-1 lead until the seventh when Carty doubled, George Hendrick beat out an infield hit and with two out Ashby lined a drive into the right field stands.

Tigers 4, Yankees 3
Gary Sutherland's two-run single with two out in the ninth inning capped a three-run rally that lifted Detroit over New York. Rusty Staub opened the ninth with a double and came around on an infield out and a sacrifice fly by Aurelio Rodriguez. Pinch-hitter Dan Meyer and Tom Veryzer singled and moved up on a wild pitch by Ed Figueroa, 2-2, who had allowed only four hits until the ninth. Sutherland then bounced his game-winning hit up the middle.

Orioles 5, Brewers 2
Ken Singleton doubled home two first-inning runs and Lee May slapped a two-run single in the third, sparking Baltimore over Milwaukee. Mike Cuellar, 1-2, who entered the game with an 11.20 ERA, checked the Brewers on two runs and five hits through the first six innings. Wayne Garland finished up for Baltimore with three hitless innings as the Brewers lost their third game in a row and fifth in six starts.

Royals 6, Twins 3
George Brett, swinging the hottest bat in the American League, knocked in the go-ahead run with his third hit of the game as Kansas City snapped a 3-3 tie in the seventh inning and went on to defeat Minnesota. It was the fourth straight game that the Royals' 22-year-old third baseman, who is batting over .350, has had three hits.

Rangers 6, White Sox 5
Toby Harrah's bases-loaded sacrifice fly with none out in the bottom of the ninth inning lifted Texas over Chicago. Juan Beniquez tripled off loser Dave Hamilton to start the ninth-inning rally and Lenny Randle and Mike Hargrove were purposely walked. Reliever Pete Vuckovich served up the pitch to Harrah, who drove it to medium center field and the sliding Beniquez beat the throw to the plate.

A's 6, Angels 4
Pinch-hitter Ken McMullen singled in two runs as Oakland scored four times in the eighth inning to beat California. The Angels took a 3-2 lead into the eighth with relief pitcher Dick Drago on the mound. With one out, Billy Williams walked and Bert Campaneris doubled. McMullen faced Paul Hartzell, who was called in from the bullpen. McMullen lined a single to left and Tim Hosely followed with his first home run of the season to score two more runs.

Miller: No Compensation Should Be Paid To Team Which Is Losing Free Agent Player

NEW YORK (AP) — When is a free agent not a free agent?

When his new team is forced to compensate his old team, says Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association.

Miller's union, currently bargaining with the owners' negotiating committee on a new labor contract, says there should be no compensation to the club losing the free agent player.

The owners' current position is that the free agent's new club must pay the old club a figure that could reach $270,000. That figure breaks down to double the player's salary, stopping at a maximum base of $75,000, plus $5,000 times the old club's rank in attendance.

An eight-year player, for example, making $75,000 or more for a team with the lowest attendance in the league, would have the compensation price tag of $270,000 — $150,000 plus $120,000. Veterans of more than eight years would have the $270,000 figure reduced each succeeding year by adjustments of one-third.

Miller contends a top-dollar figure would be a deterrent to the other 23 clubs dealing with the free agent.

A similar policy of compensation in pro football, the Rozelle Rule, was struck down as illegal because it effectively replaced the chains on free agents.

In the National Basketball Association's landmark settlement of its labor disputes, the league has agreed to drop any compensation claim for signing free agents after the 1981 season.

Reached in Chicago, John Gaherin, chief bargainer for the owners, said, "We think this proposal is a fair and equitable one."

The compensation issue is just one of the things bothering Miller in management's current proposal, which the owners are analyzing in meetings today in Chicago. Miller, meanwhile, has scheduled a series of 24 meetings beginning Thursday and spaced over the next six weeks for the purpose "of bringing players up to date and to learn from them how they want to proceed."

Joe Hall Searching For Only Quality Players

By BOB COOPER
AP Sports Writer
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The help wanted sign is still hanging outside Kentucky basketball Coach Joe Hall's office and only "quality people" need apply.

Hall already has signed three new players for next year's squad and has three more slots to fill, "although I doubt very seriously if we'll fill them all," he said.

The coach of last season's National Invitation Tournament winners won't say what kind of players he has on his mind, but adds that he's "still recruiting, still talking to some players."

Already signed are 6-foot-4 Tim Stephens of McCreary County, 6-1 1-2 Jay Shidler of Lawrenceville, Ill., and 6-6 Lavon Williams of Denver.

"We're just interested in quality people. If we can improve our squad with what we feel are quality athletes that can play for us at any position, we would be interested," Hall said.

Pondering injuries and illnesses that wore Kentucky very thin last season, Hall said he usually tries to have 13 or 14 players in good health who are ready to play at all times.

"Right now, we're 13 in depth but you have to anticipate some players being ill at times or one thing or another," he said.

Like Kentucky football Coach Fran Curci, Hall doesn't like to fill all the scholarships he has allotted. "I like to be flexible," he said. "You never know. You can pick someone up at the last minute or have room for someone who comes on and proves himself and is in need of some help," Hall said.

Kentucky started last season with three "big men"—Mike Phillips, Rick Robey and Danny Hall, all closing in on the seven-foot mark. Phillips was alone as the big man when the season ended.

Robey injured a knee just after the new year started and, except for some vain efforts in a couple of games, saw no further action, although he could have played in the NIT if he had been needed.

Hall left the squad in mid-season saying he wasn't seeing enough action.

One big plus for next season is that the Wildcats will lose only one player by graduation, Reggie Warford.

He was the lone recruit four years ago in the confusion between Adolph Rupp's retirement and the hiring of Hall to replace him.

Guthrie Gets By Rookie Test While Eddie Miller Crashes

By JERRY GARRETT
AP Motorsports Writer
INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—"Heck, the rookie test isn't anything terrific in the way of speed," said a confident Janet Guthrie.

But another rookie, Eddie Miller, proved the speed could be terrifying.

Miller started the final half of his rookie test Tuesday after Miss Guthrie had finished the first half of her test, mandatory for all rookies entered in the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race.

Gliding smoothly around the Indianapolis Motor Speedway at about 167 miles per hour on the seventh of 20 laps, Miller's Offenhauser-powered Eagle started to slide sideways coming out of the first turn.

It careened into a drainage ditch, launching the car over a five-foot photographer's fence. It bounced once, flew high in the air over an eight-foot spectator's fence, and landed upside down less than five feet from a crowded spectator grandstand. The car wedged into another fence which prevented the auto from plunging down a 20-foot tunnel.

"I can't remember a car getting that far out of the ballpark since 1951," said one veteran U.S. Auto Club official.

The spectacular accident demolished the car and trapped Miller, 31, from Lakewood, Colo., inside the battered cockpit for nearly 20 minutes.

Miller suffered a broken neck, but his condition was given as "excellent ... considering" by his doctor.

Miss Guthrie, who did not see the accident, was philosophical.

"You accept the risks in this game," said Miss Guthrie, who planned to complete the final phase of her rookie test today. "I saw someone die at Watkins Glen. So I know ..."

It will take a speed of probably at least 180 m.p.h. to make the May 30, $1 million race, and the rookie test speeds are considered safely slow. But Miss Guthrie said she could see how something might go wrong.

"When you're trying not to go as fast as you can, you lose your concentration — and you're not going all that slow that you can afford to lose it," she said. "I don't know if that's what happened to Eddie, but I know I was bored to tears" during the test.

Aeros Grab 4-3 Win To Tie Series

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—The New England Whalers put the pressure on Houston in the final period of their World Hockey Association playoff game Tuesday night, but the Aeros kept their cool.

"We almost blew it, but our guys hung in there when it counted," said Houston Coach Bill Dineen after watching his team almost blow a three-goal third-period lead before outlasting the Whalers 4-3.

Houston's victory tied the best-of-seven U.S. Division final series at two games apiece. The teams meet in Game Four Thursday night in Houston and return to Hartford for Game Six on Saturday.

The Popiel brothers, defenseman Paul and winger Jan, staked the Aeros to a 3-0 first-period lead, Paul connecting on two power play slap shots from the left point and Jan hitting on a wrist shot from the right circle.

New England trimmed one goal off that lead on Brad Selwood's second power play tally from the right point, but Terry Ruskowski made it 4-1 with his fourth playoff goal at 14:21 of the second stanza.

Tom Webster's power play goal, his seventh of the playoffs, cut the Houston lead to 4-2 at 2:31 of the third period and then Gordie Roberts connected at 10:41 to cut the deficit to one goal.

At the time of Roberts' goal, the Whalers had outshot the Aeros by a 9-1 margin and were putting all kinds of pressure on Houston goalie Ron Grahame.

"We had plenty of chances to tie it, but couldn't get the right bounce," said Roberts, the Whalers' 18-year-old defenseman.

attorney general, any member of his staff or any other law enforcement agency or individual and any prosecution witness that could conceivably influence the witness' testimony.

In accordance with Jerman's rulings, Guinn is also entitled to information pertaining to any confession or statement made by Colson, to information concerning any evidence uncovered by the prosecution which may indicate Colson's innocence, and to a list of all witnesses whose names do not appear on Colson's indictment.

Jerman also changed the date for the execution of convicted murderer Terry Mitchell Compton, convicted in January of first degree murder in the death of prominent Henry County farmer Travis Lax.

Jerman had originally set the execution date for July 8, but changed it Monday to Aug. 16 so defense attorneys would have time to follow appeal procedures.

Convicted of second degree murder in the same case was Donald Ray Scott, who was sentenced to 20 years in the state penitentiary.

Reagan And Wallace Plan Campaign Stops In Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky campaign aides for Republican Ronald Reagan and Democrat George Wallace were busy until the last moment ironing out schedules for the arrivals of both presidential candidates in the state today.

Reagan and Wallace both plan to be in Kentucky through Thursday seeking support in the state's first presidential primary May 25.

President Ford, who hopes to put a stop to Reagan's recent gains in GOP primaries, is scheduled for a campaign stop in Louisville on Friday.

Reagan was scheduled to fly in from Boise, Idaho, today, arriving at the London, Ky., airport at 2:30 p.m. Olney Owen, his state campaign manager, said Tuesday night.

Mathis To Head Carter Campaign Here

Dale Sights, Kentucky State Chairman of the Carter for President Campaign, announced today that Gil Mathis has been named Calloway County chairman for the "Jimmy Carter for President" campaign. Mathis is a professor of economics at Murray State University.

Other officials of the campaign named were Ann Kelly Ellis and Bill Cherry. Ms. Ellis, Calloway County Juvenile Probation Officer, was selected to be the Calloway County co-chairperson of the Carter campaign. Bill Cherry, professor of agriculture at Murray State, was named treasurer of the Carter campaign.

Those named to the steering committee for the Carter campaign include E. B. Howton, Don Henry, Dan Shipley, Jack Rose, Robert O. Miller, Betty Lowery, Sid Easley, George Shoemaker, Lynn Johnson, Ed Overby, Mark Cunningham, George Stockton, Charles Hale, and Bill Whittaker.

Owen, reached by telephone at his Lexington home, said Reagan was to address a rally at the London airport and then fly to Louisville, arriving at 4:15 p.m.

The former California governor planned a brief news conference at the Falls City Flying Service at Standford Field before departing for the Ramada Inn.

Reagan is scheduled to speak at a rally at 7 p.m. at the Bluegrass Convention Center at the Ramada, and to stay at the inn overnight.

After taping television interviews Thursday morning, the candidate is to fly to Lexington, arriving at Bluegrass Field at 11 a.m.

After a brief public welcome and news conference, he is slated to depart for Lexington's Continental Inn, where he is to speak at a Rotary Club luncheon and to hold another news conference.

Another television taping is next on the agenda, then a return to Bluegrass Field for a flight to the Greater Cincinnati Airport at Erlanger in northern Kentucky.

Reagan is to arrive at Greater Cincinnati Airport at 3 p.m. He is, scheduled to speak at a rally at the Servair Flying Service and then meet again with reporters before his scheduled 4 p.m. departure on a flight to Battle Creek, Mich.

Wallace is scheduled to arrive Wednesday evening in Louisville, where he will spend the night, campaign spokesmen said.

He has no public appearances scheduled Wednesday night, but plans television tapings and news conferences, according to Naylor Burnette, his state campaign chairman.

Wallace spokesmen announced some changes in the Alabama governor's schedule for Thursday.

Wallace is to hold a news conference at 10 a.m. at the Galt House in Louisville.

He is then scheduled to address the luncheon meeting of the Kentucky Bar Association at 1 p.m. before flying to western Kentucky for

Robertson & Carter Choruses To Sing At Baptist Church

The Choruses from Robertson and Carter Elementary Schools will present the special music for the Sunday night church service at First Baptist Church on May 16. They will be directed by Joan Bowker, music teacher in the Murray City Schools, and accompanied by Mrs. Allene Knight.

These special choruses are made up of third and fourth graders and have at least one practice session per week in addition to their regular music period. The Orff and Kodaly techniques of teaching music are utilized in training these children.

They will be singing the following numbers for the service: "Our America" (a patriotic medley) by O'Hara; "I Wonder How It Felt" by Gaither; "Alleluia" by Grace Nash (accompanied by the Orff Instruments); "I Guess God Thought of Everything" by Gaither.

Carter Elementary Students are: Jerry Broach, Amy Carman, Jeff Downey, Missy Dunn, Gary Gassam, Lanette

Hopkins, Molly Innes, Carruth Kitrell, Sondra McClure, Cary Miller, Amy Roos, Lynn Roberts, Tina Shelton, Dana Sills, Sabrina Smith, David Snow, Susan Tharpe, Kathy Turner, Donna Williams, Rusty Wright, Lori Wynn, Kevin Wolf, and Chris Young.

Senate Panel To Take Testimony Of Army Officers In Meat Scandal

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate panel will take testimony from high-ranking Army officers as it continues to investigate a military purchasing scandal in which Army inspectors say they took bribes and allowed meat packers to ship inferior food to military mess halls.

Six Army Health Services Command and Veterinary Corps officers were to testify today before the Senate Government Operations subcommittee.

Military meat inspectors testified Monday they were paid bribes and supplied with the services of prostitutes by two New England meat packing firms to keep them from causing a "hassle" over meat quality requirements in Army contracts.

Witnesses also told the Senate panel that the G & G Packing Co. of Boston and Blue Ribbon Frozen Foods of Hamden, Conn., were using ungraded and inferior cuts of beef to fill Army orders for choice steaks and roasts for the military forces. The Army was then billed for higher priced cuts, witnesses said.

Subcommittee chairman Lawton Chiles, D-Fla., said the substitution of low quality knuckle for top sirloin sometimes netted the meat packers $192,000 a day in illegal profits during 1974 and 1975.

The two New England packing firms, now closed, were at one time supplying about 20 per cent of the 100 million pounds of beef — costing $250 million — purchased for the military each year.

Chiles said irregularities uncovered by his panel have been costing the taxpayers millions of dollars each year.

Chiles said the Army inspection system "works like a Rube Goldberg invention" and that the Pentagon probably could do better by hiring family shoppers living near military installations and giving them a shopping list to use at the corner supermarket.

Part of the problem, Chiles said, is that Pentagon specifications for steaks, roasts and hamburger are so rigid that only about 32 of the nation's 2,500 meat processors bother to bid for Army contracts.

"When only a handful of companies bid on contracts, and one of those companies cheats the government, the cheating company can underbid its competitors, either forcing honest meatpackers out of the military meat business, or forcing them to cheat as well," he said.

Medical Technologists Rita McKeel and Sally Cox are performing blood tests on the new Coulter Counter recently added to the laboratory of Murray-Calloway County Hospital.

Hospital Gets New Equipment

A fully automated hematology counter was recently added to the Clinical Laboratory of Murray-Calloway County Hospital.

This sophisticated piece of equipment performs seven diagnostic tests on each blood sample, a hospital official explained. The previously used semi-automated counter performed only four of these tests. The additional three diagnostic tests determine the cell indices that enable the physician to more readily classify the different types of anemia.

"The Model 'S' Coulter Hematology Counter has many advantages over semi-automated counters. Use of this equipment decreases the amount of time required to perform blood tests and provides the physician with more information, thus resulting in more efficient operation of the clinical laboratory and in better patient care. An additional benefit of the instrument is that it does these measurements with greater accuracy and precision," explained David Walker, Chief Medical Technologist.

Search Begins For Nominee For Chairman Of State Republicans

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Wanted by the Kentucky Republican Party: A chairman who has the time, money and ability to serve as an effective spokesman.

Those are the ingredients listed by former state GOP Chairman Charles Coy of Richmond, who heads a nominating committee which will make a recommendation to the party's State Central Committee.

But the time is short and the maneuvering may be hectic because of the visits of Ronald Reagan to Kentucky Wednesday and Thursday and President Ford Friday. Both are rivals in Kentucky's May 25 primary.

Coy said his group won't be able to meet until just before the scheduled convening of the State GOP Central Committee here Saturday.

"We had hoped to get together Friday evening, but I think it is only fair that everyone be given an opportunity to see and hear the president," Coy said.

The search is for a successor to state Sen. Clyde Middleton, R-Covington. He is leaving to devote more time to his law practice and seek re-election next year.

Candidates have not exactly been beating at the party door, officials acknowledge privately.

Coy, who has just started canvassing his nominating committee by telephone, said he believes the party needs a strong, fulltime leader, preferably someone financially independent enough to spend the next two years guiding the party to the exclusion of other duties.

"I think it's grossly unfair that the Republican Party has been in the situation—by reason of Clyde's legislative service and other problems—where Larry Van Hoose (GOP executive director) has had occasionally to be its spokesman," Coy commented.

He declined to speculate on potential nominees, declaring nobody has contacted him seeking the position.

The Republican chairmanship is served without pay. The Democrats pay $25,000 a year.

Van Hoose said he expects the nominating committee to come up with a preference, but has heard "speculation" that perhaps the Republicans ought to wait until after the May 25 presidential primary to choose—and maybe until after the Aug. 26 national convention.

He said some who advocate the delay cite the need to avoid any Ford-versus-Reagan entanglements in selection of a state chairman.

Former Gov. Louie Nunn, now practicing law at Lexington, seemingly has the job if he wants it, but Coy said Nunn recently told him he did not think he would be available.

Larry Forgy, now practicing law at Louisville and a former young star of the Nunn administration, also is high on the small list.

Others reportedly under active consideration lately are Huda Jones, an unsuccessful candidate last year for secretary of state, and Ohio County Judge C. B. Embry, former president of the Kentucky Young Republicans.

The 64-member State Central Committee makes the final decision on the new chairman, based on the nominating committee's report.

The nominating group also could suggest a delay, but Coy said his early canvass indicates the feeling someone ought to be named chairman. If not, Middleton will continue in the post.

Researchers Say Insulin May Actually Cause Blindness

RESTON, Va. (AP) — Researchers say the insulin that has saved millions of diabetics from death may actually cause one of the disease's most ravaging after-effects—blindness.

The first indications that insulin may be a two-edged sword came in results of studies with rhesus monkeys. Test results were announced here Sunday by researchers at the University of California at Los Angeles.

"The results of our study raise important questions concerning whether insulin, apart from its ability to prolong life, may contribute to the development of diabetic proliferative ocular (eye) disease," said Dr. Alan L. Shabo.

Proliferative diabetic retinopathy is a disease seen in various stages in the majority of diabetics. As it progresses, the disease can result in bleeding inside the eyeball, detached retinas and other complications that can severely hamper vision.

Shabo and other eye specialists told a science writers' seminar sponsored by Research to Prevent Blindness Inc. (RPB) that insulin has done diabetics much more good than possible harm.

If further research definitely links insulin and eye disease, that would give clues to the process bringing on the ailment and could lead to discovery of ways to reverse or block the disease, they said.

Diabetes is a disease in which the body's ability to burn up sugar is hampered because the pancreas does not produce enough insulin. The condition is controlled through substituting insulin from animals, mainly cows, or through weight control and diet.

RPB, a foundation supporting eye research, says statistics show some 10 million Americans have diabetes — half of these cases undiagnosed.

Among persons with diabetes for more than 11 years, figures show the eye disease present in various stages in 64 per cent. For those with diabetes for 15 to 20 years, more than 90 per cent have eye disease.

Shabo said monkeys were made allergic to insulin so their bodies' defense systems reacted to it. When insulin was injected into the eyeballs of the "sensitized" monkeys, he said, they developed eye disease "with many features similar to those of diabetic patients."

In 1930, when animal insulin was not in wide use, new cases of diabetes blindness were less than 1 per cent of the national total, he said. But it now accounts for more than 15 per cent of new cases.

Life expectancy for diabetics improved dramatically with insulin therapy, Shabo said, and "it is often asserted that this increased longevity accounts for the increasing incidence" of the eye disease.

The new findings cast doubt on this explanation, he said.

Increased Concern For Employee Safety Paying Off For DOT

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Increased concern for employee safety is paying off in big dividends for the Kentucky Department of Transportation.

According to a report just released by state Transportation Secretary John C. Roberts, departmental employees were involved in 1,113 on-the-job injuries in 1975 as compared with 1,221 during 1974. Accidents resulting in lost work time also declined from 465 in 1974 to 422 last year.

One job-related fatality was reported last year, which, Roberts said, was the lowest number for the department and its predecessor — the old Department of Highways — since 1960.

Employee time lost due to work-related injuries also was down, from 7,420 days in 1974 to 6,996 last year.

Approximately 83 per cent of all employee injuries reported during 1975 were attributed to unsafe acts. The two biggest injury producers were slips or falls (16 per cent) and improper lifting methods (12 per cent).

Parts of the body most often injured — in order of frequency — were the back, fingers and eyes.

And while the 18-25 year-old employee suffered the greatest number of accidents, those most likely to be injured — in terms of work experience — were not new personnel but employees with 61 months or more on the payroll.

District Five (Louisville) was the winner of the department's annual safety award for achieving the fewest number of days lost from work-related injuries. Its rate of only 23 days lost per 200,000 man hours worked was a new record for the department.

Hearing Set For Bank Charter In Hopkinsville

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A hearing is scheduled Thursday on an application for a national-bank charter in Hopkinsville.

The Christian County seat currently has two banks, and another group just received permission from the state to start a third.

State Banking and Securities Commissioner John Williams announced Saturday that the proposed Pennyrile Citizens Bank had been approved.

At the same time, he denied a request by a small southeastern Christian County bank—Peoples Bank of Pembroke—to move its main office to Hopkinsville.

Each group had opposed the other's application. And both applications were opposed by Hopkinsville's existing banks—First City Bank and Trust Co. and Planters Bank and Trust Co.

Each was also opposed by the group seeking the national-bank charter, and John Chewing of Hopkinsville, attorney for that group, has indicated the approval of the Pennyrile Citizens Bank may be appealed in court.

Williams announced his decisions only 11 days after hearings on the applications. His last ruling on an application for a new bank, in Brandenburg, took nearly six months after the hearing.

Chewing contended the quick approval was "obviously" an effort to give the Pennyrile Citizens Bank a head start on the national-bank group. The U.S. comptroller of the currency has scheduled a hearing Thursday in Cleveland, Ohio, on that application.

"It could have been interpreted as that," Williams said, "but we did not have that in mind . . . we just learned how to do them faster."

Last Friday was the final day to file written arguments concerning the Pennyrile Citizens and Peoples Bank applications, but Chewing charged that Williams did not allow the full time allotted.

Chewing said the law requires that documents postmarked Friday must be considered, but Williams said the documents were due in the Banking and Securities Department office by 4:30 p.m. closing time Friday.

Chewing said his group had sent documents Friday by certified mail, and would cite the announcement of the decision before their receipt as an error if a court appeal of the ruling is filed.

Williams, who planned to be in Colorado this week at a state banking supervisors' convention, said he expected his decisions to be appealed.

Work Being Done On Cumberland

JAMESTOWN, Ky. (AP) — The Army Corps of Engineers is holding the level of Lake Cumberland at about 43 feet below normal this summer as work continues on a two-foot-thick concrete wall through the middle of the 250-foot high earth-filled portion of the dam.

Joseph R. Turner, resident engineer, says the work is intended to permanently stop leaks that were discovered about eight years ago.

ICOS of America, a U.S. subsidiary of an Italian firm, holds the $49.9 million contract for installing the concrete wall in the southern half of the dam. Turner said the entire project will take about five years and cost some $100 million. The dam and power plant were built for $80 million in the 1940s.

FAMILY LOANS
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Mortgage Bankers Assn. of America says single-family loans reached a record volume of $15 billion in 1975.

It says this was 16 per cent above the previous record of $13.3 billion set in 1972.

The state capitol at Springfield, Ill., was constructed of limestone between 1868 and 1887 at a cost of $4,000,000.

SENATOR WALTER D. HUDDLESTON is shown with Mr. and Mrs. Z. Enix of Murray, who visited the Senator's office during a recent trip to the nation's capital.

Cashless, Checkless Society Is Now Dream Of Some Bankers

DENVER (AP) — Bankers who once talked of a cashless society now are moving toward what they hope will become a checkless one.

The move toward an electronic system of buying and banking is already under way in scattered areas of the country, including Colorado, Louisiana, Hawaii and Ohio. Arizona is next on the list.

Some officials predict higher prices for consumers and higher profits for credit card companies. Others are concerned about possible invasion of privacy and complicated record keeping.

BankAmericard and Master Charge, the two national bank credit card associations, are leading the campaign to do away with cash and checks. They are moving slowly, however.

"You can't just walk out and tell everybody, 'Tear up your checks,'" said Charles Sonnen, a Master Charge official. "It would scare the hell out of everybody."

BankAmericard is introducing a blue, white and gold card called Entree in selected markets. A customer presents his or her card to a sales clerk, who relays the card number to a BankAmericard computer. If the computer says the customer's checking account will cover the purchase, a sales slip is issued. A copy is deposited in the merchant's bank for payment and that bank notifies the buyer's bank to debit the account involved.

The customer must keep track of the sales slips he collects during the month. He receives a monthly statement such as the one now issued for regular BankAmericard purchases.

Interbank, which issues Master Charge, is planning to introduce a green and white card called Signet next year. In its early stages, it will serve mainly as a national checkcashing guarantee.

The new systems could produce higher revenues for the banks since they will be permitted to charge fees to merchants and cardholders.

The elimination of checks is part of the move toward a system called electronic funds transfer. Under this system, payments for purchases can be made with a card inserted in a computer terminal.

Pamphlet Helps Consumers Choose Proper Cooling Unit

By LOUISE COOK

Associated Press Writer
Consumers trying to get a head start on beating the summer heat may find themselves caught in a maze of confusing terms and conflicting claims when shopping for an air conditioner.

How big a unit should you buy? Which one uses the least energy? How much will it cost to operate?

Manufacturers generally suggest asking the dealer, who then checks a cooling guide. But consumers can do their own checking with the help of a free pamphlet from the National Bureau of Standards.

Air conditioning cooling ability is measured by BTUs — British Thermal Units. This rating indicates the amount of heat an air conditioner will remove from a room each hour. There is no firm rule telling you how many BTUs you will need for a particular area.

In addition to room size, you have to take into account the place where you live, the amount of sun, the number of people who use the room, the location of the area to be cooled in relation to other air-conditioned rooms and the type of room involved.

The Bureau of Standards booklet gives step-by-step directions on choosing an air conditioner. Charts explain how many BTUs to add or subtract for different factors.

Here's how the system works: Suppose you live in Dallas and want to cool a 12-by-15 kitchen-dining area. That's 180 square feet of floor space. A chart in the booklet shows that the unadjusted amount of cooling needed for this area is 4,700 BTUs an hour.

Next look at the "climate factor" for Dallas. It's 1.05, indicating that Dallas is warmer than average. Multiply the 4,700 by 1.05 to get 4,935 BTUs an hour.

For every foot of wall that adjoins another cooled room, you subtract 30 BTUs. Assume the 15-foot wall is next to the cooled room and subtract 450 BTUs, bringing the amount of cooling you will need down to 4,485 BTUs an hour.

How many people will use the room? If fewer than two will use it, subtract 600. More than two? Add 600 BTUs for every additional person. In this case, since the kitchen probably will be used by only one person during peak cooking periods, subtract the 600 BTUs. Finally, since the room is a kitchen, add 4,000 BTUs. The total amount of cooling you need is 7,885 BTUs an hour so you should look for models providing between 7,500 and 8,500 BTUs.

Once you have decided what size air conditioner you want, you should compare models to see which gives you the greatest amount of cooling for the least energy.

Most manufacturers of room air conditioners participate in a voluntary labeling program developed by the Bureau of Standards to provide a guide to energy efficiency. New labeling standards, required by law, are in the works, but will not be ready until next year.

The existing labels — the ones you can expect to see this summer — use a concept known as the Energy Efficiency Ratio or EER. It tells how much cooling you get for every watt of electricity you use. The EER is obtained by dividing the number of BTUs by the number of watts.

Suppose, for example, an air conditioner has a capacity of 6,000 BTUs and takes 820 watts to operate. The EER is 7.3. The higher the EER, the more efficient the model.

The energy guide label developed by the Bureau of Standards includes the EER for the model in question, as well as the number of BTUs and watts. It also includes the range of EERs for similar models.

The bureau's booklet on picking the best air conditioner and determining approximate operating costs is called, "Energy Efficiency in Room Air Conditioners." It is available, free of charge, by writing Consumer Product Information Center, Pueblo, Colo., 81009.

Army Corps Begins Study Of Flood Control Methods For Powell County

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — With funds cut off for a proposed dam on the Red River in Powell County, the Army Corps of Engineers has begun a study of flood control methods and alternative water supplies for the area that would have been solved by the dam.

Congress recently withdrew its approval of more than $1 million in federal funds for planning of the controversial dam, but authorized a $150,000 appropriation for a study of alternatives.

The corps had proposed construction of a dam for purposes of flood control, water supply and recreation, but came under heavy fire from conservation groups, area residents and others.

Shortly after Gov. Julian Carroll announced his opposition to the dam, it was relegated to "inactive" status by the Army engineers.

This time the corps wants to get as much public involvement in the project as possible.

"We're trying to get citizen input at the beginning of planning," said Rosie Mandia, a spokesman for the corps' urban studies program, which is doing the water supply study.

She said public protests have frequently been directed at corps projects after they are already well underway, and that several have been deauthorized by Congress.

In response, she said, "we're trying to catch public feelings (about this project) before it gets too far along."

The corps wants to make it clear that by studying alternative means of flood control and water supply, it is not intending to reopen the Red River Dam project.

"I want to emphasize that this is not another look at the Red River lake project," said Col. James Ellis, the corps' Louisville District engineer.

"It is an investigation to solve flood problems at Clat City and Stanton and water supply needs in the Kentucky River basin."

"Those problems were not swept away with the withdrawal of funds for the dam," he said.

Martin Pedigo, public relations officer for the corps in Louisville, commented, "we're trying to make it absolutely clear we're not looking at the dam."

The corps is trying to determine whether there is a critical need for an additional water supply for Lexington and surrounding counties.

Pedigo said there are indications Lexington could face a water crisis because it is growing so fast.

The Army corps always acknowledged there were alternatives to building a dam on the Red River, but said a dam would be the cheapest and most effective method of flood control and would serve as a water supply.

Such an argument is commonly known as a favorable cost-benefit ratio.

Pedigo said in the current studies the corps will not focus so heavily on the cost-benefit ratios of the various alternatives.

Miss Mandia said alternative water supply measures under consideration include a restructuring of the way water is priced, so that those who use more would pay more per gallon used. That would go hand in hand with conservation education, she said.

Other alternatives include recycling commercial waste water within a community; transfer of water within a river basin; use of water-saving faucets and toilets, and preventing leakage loss.

"Right now we're just getting ideas," she said.

Among the flood control alternatives to construction of a dam are the construction of levees, channel improvements, small impoundments or retarding structures, and evacuation and floodproofing plans.

Pedigo said the corps will submit separate reports to Congress on flood control and water supply alternatives within about a year.

River Wedding

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — She's from Indiana and he's from Kentucky and they couldn't decide which state to get married in. So they compromised.

Since the Ohio River divides the two states, it wasn't easy for Marveta Budhoo of Sellersburg, Ind., and Otha Tunget of Louisville, Ky., to find a wedding site, but they did.

They got married in the middle of the Clark Memorial Bridge, which spans the river at Louisville.

"This is what's known as taking the plunge," said one relative present at the ceremony Saturday.

"I told him I'd go halfway on anything," said Marveta, 31.

"People are getting married in canyons, on skis, underwater," just everywhere," Tunget said.

"We decided why not in the middle of the bridge."

They said there was another, deeper reason for holding the ceremony on the bridge.

Each had been married before and they said the Clark Bridge provided a symbol of strength—and they said they wanted a strong marriage this time.

DIETETICS INTERNSHIP—Margaret Watkins (right) of Hayti, Mo., a senior dietetics major in the home economics program at Murray State University, has been awarded a one-year dietetics internship at Presbyterian Hospital in Dallas, Texas, beginning in September. She is shown with Dr. Alta Presson, professor of home economics and head of the dietetics program, as they study the details of her internship notification letter. Miss Watkins, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.S. Watkins, Jr., of Hayti, will be graduated Cum Laude May 8 at Murray State. Dietetics internships, part of the preparation to become a registered dietitian, are awarded on a competitive basis, with about 10 applicants for each available internship across the country.

Car Thefts Rising; Number Recovered Declining In State

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Car thefts are on the rise in Kentucky but the percentage of stolen autos recovered by police is declining, a Kentucky State Police official says.

Lt. Richard McQuown, commander of the state police auto theft unit, said recently that about 10,000 cars are stolen each year in Kentucky.

The recovery rate for all law enforcement agencies declined from about 84 per cent in 1974 to about 80 per cent in 1975, McQuown said.

This year, law enforcement agencies probably will recover fewer than 80 per cent of the autos stolen in the state, he said.

McQuown said he had records of 12,000 unrecovered vehicles over the past five years and added, "It's the expensive ones that we're not getting back."

The average value of a stolen vehicle is $1,200 to $1,400, he said, "but the value of the vehicles we don't get back is $3,000 and up."

McQuown said that's because professional theft rings concentrate on the expensive cars, which they sell as parts or take out of the state.

Ten or 12 such rings may be operating in Kentucky, he said, and state police are taking steps to combat these operations.

One step is urging legislation to modify Kentucky's outdated vehicle registration system.

"Kentucky's dead last in being a non-title state," he said, and this helps car thieves by making it easier to register a stolen vehicle.

"Kentucky is a quick and easy state... you hand some kind of ownership document to a girl and she hands you back a negotiable document," he said.

McQuown said state police are considering asking Gov. Julian Carroll to include legislation to change this in his call for a special General Assembly session later this year.

The other step, he said, is an incentive program for state police to crack down on car thieves.

The "Screaming Eagle" program, sponsored by the Independent Insurance Agents of Kentucky, is a contest to see which state police officer can recover the most stolen vehicles and arrest the most car thieves.

Trooper Kenneth Rigdon of the Elizabethtown post won last year's prize—a trip to Hawaii.

This year, McQuown said, "instead of just one prize, there're eight."

Winter Wheat

Estimate Is

Revised Downward

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The U.S. Department of Agriculture has revised its estimate of Kentucky's winter wheat crop downward because of a long period of dry weather.

The USDA's Kentucky Crop and Livestock Reporting Service estimated Monday that Kentucky's 1976 crop will be 11.2 million bushels, down 6 per cent from 1975.

James M. Koepper, statistician in charge, explained that dry weather can cause much of the wheat to produce fewer grains than usual. He also said it appears about 5 per cent of the state's winter wheat has been damaged by late frosts.

Construction of Iowa's capitol started in 1873 and it was opened for its first legislative session in 1884. Interior wall decorations include 29 kinds of marble and wood paneling.
